

Pediatric Home Service Biography

Judy F. Giel, RRT, CRTT
Senior Vice President, Clinical Service

Judy Giel, a registered respiratory therapist and certified respiratory therapy technician, is senior vice president, clinical service of Pediatric Home Service (PHS). She has more than thirty years experience in respiratory care and clinical services.

Giel is a subject matter expert in respiratory and infusion therapy, and chronic disease management in children. She is responsible for directing and coordinating the activities of the respiratory, infusion, chronic disease, social service, nutrition and education departments of PHS, and working directly with the president to formulate and administrate organization policies.

Giel, a member of the senior management leadership team, joined PHS in 1997 as vice president, respiratory service. She has held several senior executive positions with PHS prior to her existing role, including vice president, sales and senior vice president, operations.

Prior to joining PHS, Giel held several senior executive positions in clinical services and respiratory therapy care in hospitals, including: executive director of Regional Kidney Disease Program; general manager and sales manager of Caremark (home infusion); district manager of Glasrock (home medical equipment); center manager of Baxter (home respiratory/medical equipment); administrative director, respiratory care of East Jefferson General Hospital, Metairie, La.; director of respiratory care of Mercy Hospital, New Orleans, La.; and she worked in the respiratory therapy department of Mount Sinai Hospital, Minneapolis.