FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Pediatric Home Service Named a 2016 Top 150 Minnesota Workplace
*Ranking Eighth Among Over 385 Workplaces Surveyed

St. Paul, Minn. – Named the eighth best mid-size company, Pediatric Home Service (PHS) has been recognized for the sixth year in a row in the Star Tribune's annual ranking of the Top 150 Workplaces in Minnesota.

Top Workplaces recognizes the most progressive companies in Minnesota based on a confidential employee survey measuring benefits, pay, work/life balance, as well as the company's leadership and employee engagement. The survey also asks where the company is headed, its values and cooperation, how the company is getting where it aims to go, whether employees feel appreciated and whether their work is meaningful.

Mark Hamman, president of Pediatric Home Service, said he feels humbled that his employees take pride in their jobs. "Our employees come to work each day ready to achieve an incredible mission – ensuring children with medical complexities are able to thrive at home. I know how important each of our employees is to this company, and being named a top workplace for the sixth year in a row, shows that they also know the difference they are making in the lives of the families we care for."

The 2016 analysis included responses from over 385 workplaces and 74,182 employees.

For the second year in a row, Minnesota had the highest overall rankings and the most companies that met the criteria for a Top Workplace. Glassdoor recently ranked Minneapolis- St. Paul in the top 10 cities for jobs, based on job availability, cost of living and job satisfaction.
