1Advance care

A Pediatric Complex Care Designation will allow providers to focus on clinical skills, technical abilities and patient-focused service. It rewards innovation by advancing new service lines, new therapies and new equipment at home.

It will also allow lawmakers to tailor programs for providers of complex and comprehensive services, ensuring that our focus stays on high-quality, clinically excellent, safe patient care in the most cost effective environment.

2Reduce the total cost of care

Creating a designation opens the door to consider innovative payment structures, moving away from traditional and siloed fee for service models.

A designation will allow for reimbursement based on quality measures and patient outcomes across all aspects of a child's medically complex home care services.

3Reduce the administrative burden

Each service has distinct regulatory requirements, creating an immense burden for the home care provider, the prescriber and governmental agencies.

Ensuring compliance with multiple sets of regulations takes resources away from what matters most: advancing care for our complex pediatric population.
